

North Torrance Hits Red Feather Goal

BY ADALINE CORTEZ

Community Chest Residential Chairman for North Torrance, Mrs. Ida Tardaguila, 17019 Casimir, the Section Leaders Mes-James W. J. McCausland, Peter Bruce, Paul Hoffman, G. Campbell, R. H. Miller, R. W. Bailey, Jack White and S. M. Pettit

and the scores of volunteers who rang doorbells last Monday will be happy to hear that North Torrance made its quota!

Community projects just can't seem to miss in North Torrance! Perry Elementary PTA reports that its carnival Friday night lived up to their financial expectations. It was certainly great fun for the children!

•North Torrance Elementary PTA netted $91 at Get-Acquainted Day. Two hundred persons attended.

Girl Scout Troop H67 worked hard to make its candy booth at the Perry School Carnival a success. It was the girls' first big, money-raising venture. Betty Bailey is scout leader.

Some little hobgoblin who rang my doorbell for "Trick or Treat" left her doll on my porch. Tina has done her best to keep the little doll with a cracked crown happy, but someone else's little girl is probably very unhappy without her baby.

Halloween mystery and revelry ruled the weekend for all neighborhoods in North Torrance.

Campfire Girls met in Judy

everything that Christmas means is in this gift

Witches, gypsies and Dutch girls roasted wieners in the patio of the Ott Fagnano home, 17233 Atkinson Ave., when Mes-James Owens, Bernard, group leader; Ott Fagnano, and Joyce Schindler hosted the Busy Bluebird Group. (Incidentally, the group can take three more girls.)

THE WYFONEE Woodcraft Ranger Girls, costumed, and in a setting of orange and black Halloween decorations, also celebrated with a wiener roast.

Costume winners were Gloria Stepp, Kit Alexander, and Eloise Smolina.

Pamela Carlisle served refreshments.

This group is new in this area and meets in Bungalow Two at North Torrance Elementary from 7 to 8 p.m. for Council Fire every Thursday night. Any girl interested may contact Mrs. Mobra, leader, by calling Menlo 4-1205.

Glenburn Ave. held a party for the children beginning with a costume parade down the middle of the street and finishing with the cutting of a cake decorated with colorful Jimmy Cricket on a bicycle. The cake was baked by one of the mothers, Mrs. J. R. Allison.

Corine and Ermanita Aves combined forces to give 27 children a dinner party before "trick or treat" time.

Held in our garage, 17516 Carise Ave., which all the "Moms" on both blocks decorated with a huge ghost, black cats, orange and black streamers and leering Jack o' Lanterns, a troupe of devils, clowns, dancing girls, ghouls of every description, ballerinas, cinderellas, gypsies, arabs, bunnies, supermen and pirates played games and feasted on Jack o' Lantern sandwiches, salads held in oranges cut to look like Jack o' Lanterns, hot chocolate and pudding.

Judy Engle, 2727 168th St., had a costume party for her friends. A scavenger hunt was the hit of the evening!

The night of witches and owls was not feted by the children of North Torrance.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fannon 17520 Cerise Ave., attended a military ball at the Biltmore Ballroom. It was a brilliant affair and very, very gay!

Eleven FaySmith Ave. couples gathered at the Paul Hoffmanns, 17035 FaySmith Ave., in costumes noted mainly for their decided originality. Mr. Albert Pesola, Mrs. Ethel Wright, Mr. Walt Smith and Mrs. Low Merry won prizes.

After watching the children enjoy the spotlighted "treat" table in front of the Delbert Alford home, 17300 Atkinson Ave., the Walt Bronsons, Hamilton Blacks, Owen Bertrands, Bert Johnsons, Collinses, and Dave Dyras joined to the patio for a wiener bake and evening of square dancing.

Beas and Mildred Kutka, 4247 178th St., attire as gypsy and gambler, attended the Eagles costume party in Inglewood.

When good friends get together, the results are almost always the same as they were at Audrey and Bob Richter's party for the Structural Engineering
